Stanford Is Given Support In Dollars

More than 2600 Stanford men and women throughout the world, augumented by a number of friends of the University, have contributed a total of $46,553 to the support of Stanford from February 1 of this year to date, it was announced today by President Ray Lyman Wilbur.

This sum was received through the third annual appeal of the Stanford Fund in a campaign which is still going forward. Contributions exceeded by 21 percent last year's total of $38,353, it was announced Eighteen hundred or the 2,655 gifts to the University have come from Stanford alumni living in California, and the rest from Stanford men and women living in 17 foreign countries, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippines, the Canal Zone and all states except Vermont, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The contribution from farthest away was sent by a Stanford petroleum engineer at Bahrein, on the Persian Gulf.

Paul C. Edwards, '06, Associate editor of the San Francisco News headed the Stanford Fund appeal as chairman of a committee representing the Stanford Alumni Association, Stanford Associates, the Stanford student body and the University administration.

"We are gratified to see renewed evidence of a desire on the part of Stanford alumi to support the University's varied educational activities," Mr. Edwards said. "The addition of $46,000 to the University's resources this year constitutes a financial increment equivalent to a year's income from more than one million dollars of endowment."

Contributors designated a total of $17,577.38 to be used by the Unversity without restriction; $1,410.62 to Schools and Departments of the University; $282.50 to research projects; $101.12 to the University Library; $18,705 80 to the Student Aid Commission, for assisting worthy, needy students; $381 to a Stanford Law School scholarship; $958.00 to other scholarships, and $7,136.50 to endowed scholarships and other purposes.

Fair Planning Balmy, Busy Days

"Balmy and busy" is the forecast for conditions at the Golden Gate International Exposition for the week of Saturday, June 17 to Friday, June 23, inclusive, with real summer weather at hand, the schools closing, vacation season getting under way, and a long program of special events to lend added interest to the multitude of regular attractions on Treasure Island.

The exceptionally busy week will include such extra attractions as the celebration of special days for Kern County, Yolo County, Arizona, Burbank, Estonia and other communities.

The Oregon Cavemen will be among the special visitors during the same period. Danish Day is billed for a special program. Mother Goose Day will have a program that will delight children and San Francisco Orphan's Day will bring a crowd of youngsters to Treasure Island.

Father's Day will also be included in what looms as one of the most entehtaining week's yet scheduled. The free public dance on Friday night, with an opportunity for a free screen test, will be another highlight.

The Mother Goose Dey program will be offered on Saturday, June 17, and will provide entertainment in Festival Hall at 3:00, 5:00 and 8:00 p. m.

Kern County Day and Yolo County Day will be observed on Saturday also. Hot baked potatoes will be given away by Kern County in the Court of the San Joaquin Valley Building. Musical programs will be prominently featured on the Yolo County Day program. Danish Day will bring another special program the same date, and through all the day's events the Oregon Cavemen will be running rampant over the Island. Arizona Day, on the same date will find a 110-piece band from Nogales and a Girls' Tumbling Team from Tucson, in the latter of which all the performers are deaf, presenting a novel program.

Sunday, June 18, will find special events galore, with Father's Day, Elk's Flag Day and Burbank Day sharing the spotlight with well arranged programs of interest.

Monday, June 19, will be another bargain day for the younger generation when children 12 and under will be admitted for 10 cents. This will also be San Francisco Orphans' Day, as well as a special day for Station KLO of Ogden, Utah.

Estonia Day is scheduled for Friday, June 23, and on this date the entire Estonian Village will be open to the public free of charge, and a program of dances in native costume will be featured on their special program.

Recently added to the established list of attractions is the Mexican Building in the Latin American Court, with a colorful display of native craftmanship. The Hindu Temple will be complete by the coming week, and numerous other added exhibits are being installed throughout Treasure Island. There will be the usual large number of free shows and band concerts during the entire week.

Paving the way for a loan you may never need

IT IS just as wise for an individual borrower as for a commercial customer to establish his bank credit before he has actual need of it.

Thousands of people are entitled to bank credit, yet are not aware of the fact. Any steadily employed man or woman who has a good character and reputation and lives within his or her means can establish a "credit line" at the bank, which may be used at need for worthwhile purposes.

Why don't you establish your bank credit now for possible use later? You may do this without obligation. Like a growing savings account it is good financial preparedness. You need not be a depositor to borrow from this bank.

● Ask for this booklet

This book gives common-sense advice about the establishment of bank credit and how to use it soundly. It also tells about the various loans to the individual available through American Trust Company. Our nearest office will gladly give you a copy.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Revelation: At a luncheon at the Engineers' club, I witnessed a preview of Dr. Georg Roemmert's microvivarium, which is a major exhibit of the Westinghouse company at the World's fair. The microvivarium magnifies a drop of water 2,000 times on a five-foot screen. Thus I learned that a water drop is really a miniature world inhabited by curious creatures with their loves, hates and battles unto death, engaged in a never-ending dance, all seemingly senseless yet possibly fully as sensible as so-called civilization. And to end the show, a death ray was introduced and the residents of that strange universe swelled until they actually burst. Doctor Roemmert raises his actors by means of bits of hay and vegetable mould in distilled water and makes up his transparent performers by feeding them minute portions of harmless coloring matter. And the microvivarium makes a drop of vinegar look like a lot of jitterbugs under a full head of steam.

* * *

Relics: Workmen engaged in tearing down the Sixth avenue elevated railroad structure find their job more interesting than the ordinary run of such work. For instance, station platforms. There cracks between boards have been collecting mementoes through the years. One worker picked up a half dime minted in 1851 and another a time sheet which showed that in the seventies an elevated employee earned $1.20 in 12 hours. There are 60 Indians in the crews, which is not at all uncommon, I was informed, because Indians like to tear down steel structures. Why native Americans should favor such an occupation is still a matter of doubt despite inquiries. The most logical explanation seems to be that razing is open-air work.

* * *

Commercialized: It was my belief that hat snatching was a prank of those who like to annoy subway riders. The hat snatcher lurks on a platform and, when the train starts, reaches in through an open window and grabs a hat. The owner can do nothing about it since he is locked in the car and stays that way until the next station is reached. Well, the police recently caught two hat snatchers and put them in the hoosegow. After awhile, detectives went out and brought in a hat renovator and charged him with receiving stolen property. According to the police, the lads who lifted the lids sold them to the renovator. After refurbishing them, he sold them at a profit. Thus, professionalism instead of sport.

* * *

Loss: Getting back to the Sixth avenue elevated for one more paragraph: Thomas Harris, head of the contracting firm doing the razing, holds that the job will cost his company $160,000. Red-ink items include removing 32,000 ties apparently laid to stay; taking nuts off 150,000 bolts on a string piece 147,000 feet long and the fact that the iron bases of the pillars, instead of being solid, are filled with bricks and concrete, making them worthless as salvage. The company sells the scrap steel to domestic firms rather than to foreign nations which would use it for munitions of war. And such patriotism costs $4 a ton.

Irony Note: "Quick Wit," that new quiz game which is a hit with the intelligentsia, was invented by Roy Veller, a Long Island real estate dealer, who never finished high school. His is the third amateur-invented game to score a smash hit in the last two years. David Whitelaw, an English magazine editor, made a fortune out of his "Crossword Lexicon" and Charles Darrow, an unemployed engineer, who used idle time to work out a game called "Monopoly," has retired in luxury through his royalties.

End Piece: According to Bea Wain, who is very particular about good diction, your speech is normal if you can recite the following without stumbling:

Are our oars here?

Many a wit is not a whit wittier than Whittier.

The menu is not less important than the men you will meet.

His suit showed spots of suet and soot.

And to that I might add the late Odd McIntyre line: "Mrs. Smith's fish sauce shop," because it usually throws me.

A hearing on said Report will be held on Tuesday, the 11th day of July, 1939, at 11 o'clock A. M., in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors, in the Court House at Redwood City, in the County of San Mateo, State of California, at which hearing protests will be considered by said Board.

A summary of the Report is as follows:

It is proposed to form a sanitary district under the act of 1923 in territory lying north of San Francisquito Creek and east of the highway known as Menalta Avenue, and to construct and maintain therein a sewage collection system adequate to serve the entire district and its ultimate future population, together with a trunk line sewer for conveying the sewage from said collection system to the sewage treatment plant now owned and operated by the City of Palo Alto, charge for this service to be based upon actual cost as per recommendations of the City Engineer of said city.

The boundaries of the proposed district, also the preliminary plans showing the nature, type and arrangement of the facilities proposed to be constructed are shown and delineated on the map or plat marked "Exhibit A" and included in the Report filed with the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County.

The estimated total cost of the project is $141,132.00, which, with Federal Aid from the Works Progress Administration is expected to reduce the cost so that the net expense to the district will be approximately $78,158.00. Financing of the project may be done either by the special assessment method under the "Improvement Act of 1911" with provision for paying in installments if desired, or by a general obligation bond issue, whichever method may be decided upon by the people or their representatives after the district is formed.

The total assessed value of all the land and improvements within the boundaries of the proposed sanitary district, according to the last equalized assessment roll of the county is $1,050.994.00.

Itemized statements of all unpaid assessments and taxes within the proposed district, together with those to be levied therein for the proposd project and projects hereofore initiated, show that the amounts to be levied therein, together with all other assessments and taxes to be levied therein for any and all purposes whatsoever, will not exceed the restrictions and limitations imposed by the "District Investigation Act of 1933."

Upon a careful estimate of the total expenses involved, including those for the retirement and interest on any bonds outstanding, together with maintenance, operation and overhead, it is calculated that the cost against a house and lot assessed at $1250.00 would be less than fifty cents a month.

Dated: May 31st, 1939.

W. H. AUGUSTUS,
County Clerk and Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God cannot become finite, and be limited within material bounds. Spirit cannot become matter, nor can Spirit be developed through its opposite. Of what avail is it to investigate what is miscalled material life, which ends even as it begins, in nameless nothingness? Going Fishing?

Here are a few timely suggestions for fishermen to bear in mind when out-of-doors.

Do not drink water of streams or lakes without first boiling it. Instead, carry a flask of drinking water.

If snagged by a fishhook, do not attempt to draw the barb out directly. If possible, have a doctor treat the wound. If removed by the fisherman or his companion, the point of the hook should be pushed forward until it protrudes and the barb cut off. Cleanse the wound thoroughly with sterile gauze, dry it and paint it with iodine or some acceptable antiseptic, and then bandage it.

Chances should never be taken when in boats. No matter how excited a fisherman may get over landing a whooper, he should keep seated and avoid being capsized.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new store building on Santa Cruz avenue in th erear of the Menlo Park Hardware Store.
